PERJURY THREAT MADE AT FORSYTH WITNESS

A demand that Jonathan B. Forsyth be perjured, today resulted in the threat of a minor charge being made against him. Forsyth was in direct contradiction to that given by the witness in the hearing in Middlesex Probate Court of the Forsyth case.
"This case is a very serious one," said Judge Chamberlain, "and it is a very serious one. I think it should be just the reverse," said Judge Chamberlain, "stating that the witness had some new perjury."
Forsyth is seeking a divorce on the ground of infidelity, accusing his wife, Mrs. Annie B. Forsyth, of having committed adultery with a man named John B. Forsyth, of New York. This statement was made when Mrs. Forsyth, who was called by Mrs. Forsyth, said that Forsyth's action be denied and he be cited for perjury, today resulted in the threat of a minor charge being made against him. Forsyth was in direct contradiction to that given by the witness in the hearing in Middlesex Probate Court of the Forsyth case.

proached a worker in the attorney-general's office on the ground of prospective membership.

Asked what instructions he had received from Reading regarding the Decorus Club investigation, Mitchell said: "He didn't give me any instructions. He told me to look into the Decorus Club."

His investigation began May 15, the witness thought, and ended May 30. He made no report in writing to the attorney-general, but told him he could find nothing criminal in the club.

At the start of the case it was learned that Truett B. Munster, former Decorus member who exposed Reading's connection with the club, would probably be the first witness called.

BACKMAN ON STAND AGAIN.

Kenneth B. Backman, manager of the Boston Better Business Bureau, resumed his testimony. He was cross-examined by Atty. General.

He furnished the attorney-general with a list of names of persons who had been members of the Decorus Club.

Mrs. Longworth arrived from Washington yesterday, accompanied by her husband, and spent the remainder of the day and night at her friend's political headquarters.

The daughter of Mark Hanna, who died in 1918, remained at her husband's side until the close of the election, and spent the night at the home of the former president of the United States at Hyde Park.

Atty. Russell, in his argument today, which will be resumed at greater length tomorrow, declared he saw no reason why the state prosecuting attorney is expected to disclose to the defense the contents of the information it has gathered.

Throughout the court session, Knowlton was apparently in buoyant spirits. No member of his family was in court.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP

MAN IN MINISTER'S GARB IS HELD IN DRUG CASE

Dressed in ministerial garb, although church authorities deny he is a clergyman, Frank H. Andrew, 31, of Massachusetts ave., Cambridge, was found guilty today in Municipal court of uttering a false prescription for cocaine.

Considerable mystery developed as to his church status. His attorney, John Sullivan, had been communicated with church authorities and had been informed they intended to appear in court Monday to see what they could do for him.

The lawyer was interrupted by the defendant in the prisoner's dock who said he did not wish to "bother" the church officials with the matter.

The court continued the case until Monday. Later, church officials who were questioned, said they had no record of a minister under the name the defendant bore.

MOTHER OF EIGHT CHILDREN "CURED BY MIRACLE"

Klan Plot Against U. S. Senator War on Gentle Nuns Bared

SAVED FROM KLAN
U. S. Senator Fess of Ohio, who, while in the House, opposed the Sterling-Tower anti-Catholic bill. The Klan plotted his ruin and hired a woman decoy, but they could not trap him.

Fiery cross of hooded man symbolized sinister influences which were at work to wrest control of a nation from the people and place in it the Klan's power. Revelations are now being made in the dramatic confession in the Boston Evening American.

WATCHES HIM FIGHT BRIBE CHARGE
Mrs. Harry F. Sinclair accompanies her husband to court each day as he faces trial in Washington on charges of conspiring with former Secretary of the Interior Fall to defraud the government in the leasing of the Espal Dome naval oil reserve.

WHEN KLANSMEN INVADDED A CONVENT
Sketch shows Klansmen—not in regular—who invaded a convent in Ohio and learned there that stories told them of a girl being held captive were utterly unfounded. They questioned the girl, who disclaimed knowledge of a woman who had told them she was the girl's mother. The girl, shown a photo of the woman, declared she had never seen her before. (See Story on Page 1).

DEMANDS PAY FOR LIFE

Sally Frances Richards, former Follies girl, wants John K. Olyphant, prominent banker of New York, to support her for the rest of her life. She says he promised this in return for a release from engagement and from mortality tables figures it at $176,384. He is the grandson of the famous railroad builder, Robert Olyphant.

N. H. Man, 100, Wants to Fly With Lindbergh

Rochester, N. H., April 11.—Charles W. Bradley, this city's "grand old man," who took his first airplane ride at 38 and his second at 58, today observed his 100th birthday anniversary by receiving a secret hope to fly some day with Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Mr. Bradley gained prominence last year when he flew from Boston to old Orchard with "Grandma" Almata Bennett of Portland, who was celebrating her 101st birthday.

Work hard, sleep well and don't worry," Mr. Bradley said, when asked his prescription for longevity. "Some say it's because I never smoked or used alcoholic liquor, but I don't say so." He is active, appears daily on the street, needs no glasses and hears perfectly.

MADE NOVENAS TO 'LITTLE FLOWER'

Another miracle has just been attributed to St. Theresa, the Little Flower of France.

Recently Mrs. Mary J. Connelly, 44, of 77 Beach ave., Melrose, mother of eight children, the eldest of them 18 and the youngest two because so ill that for a time it was necessary for her to remain in bed many hours at a time. Her family physician, Dr. Ernest Park of Bellevue ave., Melrose, stated that in his opinion she was suffering from gallstones and appendicitis.

Fearing to undergo an operation, Mrs. Connelly sought the advice of other physicians, among them Dr. Peter M. Smith of Tremont st., Boston, and each of the doctors confirmed the first diagnosis of her illness.

IN PERFECT HEALTH

Soon afterward Mrs. Connelly went to the Free Hospital for Women in Brookline and the sisters, an x-ray photograph taken there confirmed previous diagnosis. Surgeons at the hospital agreed that an operation was necessary.

While awaiting notification of the date for the operation the woman made novenas to St. Theresa at St. Stephen's Church in Haverhill st., North End, Boston. During the same period she also made a novena to the Sacred Heart. Within a short time she felt much improved and with renewed fervor began a second novena to the Little Flower of Jesus.

Since the completion of that novena, Mrs. Connelly has enjoyed perfect health and has been able to attend to her household and to take part in the activities of several women's clubs with which she is connected.

REGARDED AS MIRACLE

At last word was received from the physicians at the hospital in Brookline, and accompanied by her husband, Michael J. Connelly, the woman went to the institution and prepared for the operation. She was examined preparatory to being placed on the operating table and, to the amazement of the physicians and surgeons, she was found in perfect health and free from either gallstones or appendicitis.

Mrs. Connelly and the members of her family hail her return to good health as a miracle performed by God through the intercession of St. Theresa.

"MOTHER'S WELL AGAIN"

CHILDREN HAIL RECOVERY
Cured by a "miracle" when doctors advised her she must undergo an operation, Mrs. Mary J. Connelly of Melrose, mother of eight, is again happy with her family and is seen here with Rita, Mary and Joseph in a cosy corner.

DORCHESTER GIRL WEDS

MR. AND MRS. LEO J. NAWN
Miss M. Louise Whelan of Columbia rd. today became the bride of Leo J. Nawn, son of the late Hugh Nawn, Boston contractor, of Seaver st., Roxbury. The ceremony took place in St. Hugh's Church.

TOLL TUNNEL TO EAST BOSTON FAVORED

Tedious harbor passage by ferry boat would be done away with, and a toll traffic tunnel substituted from Boston proper to East Boston, under terms of a bill reported today by the legislative Committee on Metropolitan Affairs.

The bill, introduced by Representative William H. Hearn of East Boston, calls for the construction of an east-harbor tunnel, similar to the Holland tunnel from New York to New Jersey.

Vehicles would be assessed a toll charge to defray the cost of building and upkeep, but pedestrians of provision is made for them to walk free beneath the harbor.

Toll of cost of boring the tube would be met by a state bond issue under terms of the bill.

The bill as reported today calls for a committee of three members to be named by the Governor. These members would meet with the Metropolitan Planning Division and the Harbor Transit Commission.

The committee representing the bill today recently inspected the new Holland traffic tube in New York.

MISS WHELAN MADE BRIDE

Miss M. Louise Whelan of Columbia rd., Dorchester, today became the bride of Leo J. Nawn, son of the late Hugh Nawn, Boston contractor, of Seaver st., Roxbury, at St. Hugh's Church.

Mass was celebrated by Rt. Rev. Patrick J. Supple, D. D., P. P., who also married the couple. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mary F. Whelan, was given in marriage by her cousin, William H. Park.

A reception to 250 guests at the Crystal Ball followed. Miss Whelan was attended at the church by her sister, Miss Alice Whelan, and the bridesmaids had her brother, David, and her cousin, Daniel J. Nawn, William Beville, Harry J. Nawn, Hugh Nawn and Frank Watson.

HUSBAND SEEKS TRACE OF MISSING LYNN WIFE

Lynn police were asked today by Leopold Pasquier, of Neptune st., to locate his wife Annie, 52 years old, who disappeared last Monday and who is believed by the husband to be in South Boston. The woman is described as five feet tall, weighing 130 pounds and with dark hair. She wore a black coat, black hat, a blue dress, light-colored stockings and black shoes.

BETTY ALDEN PREDICTS "THE AMATEURS" WILL SCORE ANOTHER TRIUMPH SOON

Brookline Players to Offer "The Last of Mrs. Cheyne"

WITH THEIR FINISHED TECHNIQUE "THE AMATEURS" of Brookline pass easily from one stage offering to another. From the pleasantness of "Captain Jinks" the famous Thespian aggregation moves on to the complications of "The Last of Mrs. Cheyne" as their final theatrical fling of the 1927-28 season. As to managerial responsibilities, suffice it to say that those rest easily on the shoulders of Mr. Alan Hay. And as to the cast, "parts" are as excellently cast as is the usual thing with "The Amateurs."

MRS. GEORGE E. ALGAR PLAYS THE PART of the "Mrs. Cheyne," and others from amateur ranks entrusted with important places are Messrs. Arthur H. Sawyer, Walter Webling, Malcolm Jenner, Alan Hay, E. Irving Locke, George S. Alger and W. Y. M. Farwell. In the hands of Messrs. Alger, Stanwood G. Wellington, Arthur H. Sawyer and the Misses Mary Howe and Margaret Morgan are the feminine characters of the cast.

WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY AND FRIDAY, April 15, 16 and 17, are the dates and of course the first old explanation will rally to a man, and to a woman, and be in Whitney Hall, Brookline, on those evenings. As to patronesses or sponsors, "The Amateurs" long since have passed beyond the stage when such adjuncts are considered necessary to success. Not, of course, that such a notable cast could not if it would compile a long and interesting list of those willing to aid the arts and not unwilling to see their cognomens in print.

CELEBRATING HER WEDDING TODAY IN FAR-AWAY London, Miss Margaret Wendon becomes the bride of Francis S. Rogers. But, even though Miss Wendon chooses to exchange her wedding vows so many thousands of miles away from her net here, that set is extremely interested. The bride is a former Junior League president and it was, as I recall, during her tenure of office that the League rose to theatrical heights and staged "Mademoiselle Modiste" with such dash and finish. After a honeymoon abroad Mr. Rogers will bring his bride back to Boston.

DURING A BRIEF STAY IN BUFFALO THAT HAS PRIMARILY to do with her illustrated talk on "English Towers and Spires," Dr. Sarah Ellen Palmer of Boston and Cambridge is being much entertained. Today there is a luncheon, with Mrs. John Wickson hostess, and this evening Mrs. John A. Sprenger invites friends to meet Dr. Palmer at dinner at the College Club. Dr. Palmer's friendship with the latter is a present "souvenir de spires," a friendship made in the Leave Areas of France during the late war.

THE OBSCURITE BENEFIT ALSO HAS A PLACE IN DR. PALMER'S future plans. She is being asked to give one of her illustrated talks "in aid of" something or other on the long list of organizations, for financial benefit of which prominent amateurs struggle valiantly. Later still, Dr. Palmer plans a long foreign tour, but that is a plan having more definitely to do with the coming summer than the present late winter, and is still in the embryonic stage permissible of changes and eliminations at the will of the intending traveler.

SHARING OF BENEFITS, THIS EVENING "FORGET" AT THE Shells Street Theater is another of the various presentations "in aid of" which have recently dotted the social skies with a density like unto that of the Milky Way. "Forget" this evening is devoted to the financial aid of the Talitha Cum Home, and sponsorship and advance interest for the benefit are alike in being indicative of enormous success. The first is of the sterling sort, backers of benefits love to list for a beloved cause. The second is spontaneously enthusiastic. It's likely to be a sold out house for this much heralded Theater Guild production.

DEBUTANTE AND SUB-DEB

TO THE TUNE OF TWO HUNDRED OR SO, SPONSORS ARE lending their names. It goes without saying that they also add materially to the tune made by the chime of the amateur racketeers. Mrs. Edward C. Streeter, Mrs. Edwin S. Webster, Mrs. C. Minot Weld, Mrs. Bernard C. Weld, Mrs. Delano Wright, Mrs. Frits B. Talbot, Mrs. Amy Lawrence and sufficient numbers of Thorndikes, Thayers, Tudors, Lees, Lowells, Shaws, Peabodys and such are to be noted on the list. All, as I say, indicative of brilliant attendance and financial success for the Home.

BEFORE DEPARTING FOR THEIR FAVORITE SUMMERTIME playground of Marblehead, Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Wing have taken an apartment at the Hotel Sheraton. Their winter was spent in Dedham and the town interlude at the Sheraton is merely preliminary to a long summer in the stronghold of the amateur racketeers. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wing are "tailors" adept at the tiller and both move pleasantly through the on shore diversions that follow the day affair. Mrs. Wing was Miss Mary Matthews, a lovely bride of last season.

MRS. PAUL RAYMOND RUST OF COMMONWEALTH AVE. is making a brief stay in Washington just now, when the famous "cherry blossoms" are making of the federal city a fragrant bit of Old Japan. Bostonians are to be found in Washington with frequency, of course, but the city on the Potomac is never so popular with the sightseers as when its riot of pink and petal blossoms bursts forth. Certainly a tablet should be inscribed in a conspicuous position, somewhere in Washington's spaciousness, that future generations may never forget that Washington owes this particularly beautiful feature to Mrs. William Howard Taft.

500 ON STEAMER $20,000 FIRE IN DISABLED IN N.Y. MANCHESTER

New York, April 11 (AP)—Five hundred passengers of the Fall River Line SS. Plymouth were delayed more than an hour in landing this morning. The main shaft snapped when the steamer was less than a mile from its dock in the North river. Few of the passengers were aware of the accident, beyond observing that engine and paddlewheel had stopped. Capt. R. W. Robinson summoned tug by sounding the whistle and the vessel was soon in tow. Officials of the line said it would take nearly a month to replace the broken shaft, which was 30 inches in diameter. Another steamer will replace the Plymouth tomorrow night so that only one sailing will be missed.

AMERICA is now a two-car country

TODAY the American family is discovering that a second or third car is not only a convenience but an economy.

The schedule of the modern mother and her children is filled full. Days are rich in opportunity. In removing the barriers of distance, in enlarging the area of social contacts, in making it easy to meet the manifold engagements of the busy days, the family car does duty fully as important as the car which drives off in the morning to the office or the shop.

There are two ways to enjoy two-car ownership. Either buy a used car from a General Motors dealer or keep your present car, instead of trading it in, when you buy your new General Motors car.

Whichever plan you follow, you will be sure of satisfaction if you buy from a dealer handling Cadillac, LaSalle, Buick, Oakland, Oldsmobile, Pontiac or Chevrolet. These are General Motors dealers, selected for character, stability and service. Buy from them with confidence; and simplify your purchase if you choose, through the convenient payments of the GMAC Plan.

LOOKING TO HELP FALL RIVER TEXTILES

Fall River, April 11 (AP)—A study of the textile situation in this city, as part of the general rehabilitation drive to the fire, will be made by Haver Letter, the man who put the Boston & Maine Railroad back on its feet.

This was revealed today when the directors of three large banks here announced they would advise their stockholders to accept a consolidation plan in accordance with a revision of the plan.

It was disclosed that in agreeing to make the survey of the textile situation, Mr. Letter expressed the opinion the first step necessary was the bank consolidation.

The banks are the B. M. C. Trust Company, the Massachusetts National Bank and the Metropolitan National Bank. The consolidation plan will be known as the B. M. C. Trust Company.

Following their identification, the survey started with the men for Springfield whom they will be engaged in a three day session last Friday night. This was previous to the shooting of State Police Trooper Nelson in Connecticut.

The Connecticut state police have been notified as it is thought they are the man who shot Officer Nelson. Police and Harvard were brought to police headquarters this morning following an investigation of the case, but they would admit no connection with the Springfield case.

Joseph J. Kaplan, 41, of Dorchester, member of the law firm of Dunbar, Nutter & Jefferson, 161 Devonshire st., was named today by Governor Fuller as associate justice of the Superior Municipal Court. The new justice succeeded the late Judge William H. Merritt, who died several months ago.

Justice Kaplan is 39 years old, is married and is the father of two boys and one girl. He was graduated from high school in 1903 and from Harvard University in 1906. He received his law degree at Harvard in 1910.

SPEED SINCLAIR CASE: FIGHT ON OVER LETTERS

Washington, April 11 (AP)—Driving ahead with the same rapidity which has characterized the present Teapot Dome trial, the government today put a mass of testimony before the jury.

Starting by calling H. B. Sinclair, who is in Europe and who has been named as a witness, the government today put a mass of testimony before the jury.

Then a succession of witnesses was called to trace through letters and lock-boxes the Liberty Bonds involved in the transaction which the government contends went to Fall as a bribe and which the defense upholds as an honest business deal by which Sinclair bought an interest in Fall's ranch.

Whether a considerable batch of correspondence between Fall and other persons concerning oil leases will be introduced in evidence will be determined by Justice Duffell later as a result of a defense move.

When Roberts attempted to introduce the correspondence, Dwight W. Hoover, Sinclair's lawyer, objected that the letters were not in his possession and that they were not relevant to the charges against Sinclair.

Roberts then offered to introduce the letters as a result of a defense move. When Roberts attempted to introduce the correspondence, Dwight W. Hoover, Sinclair's lawyer, objected that the letters were not in his possession and that they were not relevant to the charges against Sinclair.

READING'S INSPECTOR TELLS OF DECIMO CLUB PROBE

SAYS HE WAS TRYING TO FIND OUT IF THERE WAS ANY FRAUD

Inspector John Mitchell, attached to the attorney-general's office, was called. Mitchell testified positively regarding his participation in the A. W. event. He was questioned by Maj. Hammond.

Q—At some time in May, 1932, did you receive some instructions with reference to investigation of the Decimo Club? A—Yes.

Q—What did you do with reference to investigation? A—I took it on May 12 that I began my investigation. I talked with people I found were members. A man named Trumbull was one of those to whom I talked. He said he was a member. He came to the club and wanted to know if the club was not investigated. He said he thought the club was a good thing and I told him why he thought so and he said "Because it doesn't make any promises."

Q—Then said he would like to see the club? A—Yes. I asked him what kind of a club it was and he said, "So far as I know it is a contact club and it may render assistance to a person as a result of being in contact with other members." Mr. Wolcott came to my office and said he was the organizer.

2 PRESIDENTS HONORED

ATTEND G. A. R. REUNION IN HUB
Mrs. Emma W. Campbell of Minneapolis, Minn., national president of the Women's Relief Corps, and Miss Emily Corey of Southbridge, retiring president of the Massachusetts chapter of the relief corps, attending the G. A. R. encampment.

bers and he said he'd give it later. He called me up later and said he'd rather have Mr. Johnson, the chairman, give out the list, but I never got the list.

I interviewed a man named Monte, a member of Stoneville, who is employed by the New England Gas and Electric Co. I asked him whether any promises had been made about that were not truthful, or if there had been any misrepresentations and he said there were no promises and no misrepresentations. He said he'd paid in his $25 and $2 a month and was willing to wait and take a chance. He said he'd never heard of any other men who were the only thing expected.

ANOTHER INTERVIEW.
I interviewed another man named Printon, who said he was satisfied to stay. He said some of the new members had been made very and had asked for their money back and he'd said, "I talked with Mr. Trumbull, an organizer from the west, and that talk was taken down by a stenographer."

At this point Mitchell was dismissed for the time being and Henry left L. Harris, the gatekeeper in the building, and went with Detective Clark to the club.

Clark produced two checks which he made out to Reading. He said he told of the two men from New York by Decimo Club. He said he would try to get the original checks sent from New York.

Mitchell then resumed the record. Q—What else did you do in your investigation? A—I interviewed one man on May 15. He told me as Thomas and even so Johnson. He said they were officers of the Decimo Club.

Q—What were you trying to find out? A—I was trying to find out if anybody had been brought into the club under false pretenses.

Mitchell then told of talking with Ralph Pierce, who was about to be elected a member and who went to the attorney-general's office on May 17 for information.

Q—Did he become a member? A—He did.

Mitchell then told of interviewing Paul Curtis, New England manager of the Mutual Insurance Co., who he said employed two men who were members. One of them was Trumbull to whom he already had referred. The other was named A—Curtis said he didn't want his employees to be members. He said Trumbull was absolutely useless after he became a member.

Said he would stick.
Mitchell testified he talked with Handel and Handel told him he was threatened with discharge and he was going to take the discharge and remain a member.

Upon request of Major Hammond, Mitchell supplied a membership application blank of the Decimo Club. He said Wolcott told him the Apposa Club was not here in Massachusetts and did not expect to be here until the Decimo Club was filed.

Q—Did you receive a prospectus for new members from Mr. Wolcott? A—I did.

It was then introduced and read by Major Hammond. Among other things it said:

"A prospective member must distinctly understand that he is risking the amount of money he puts in, just as permanent members have risked theirs. You don't buy anything with your $25 initiation fee except the right to work hard to not get in condition to manage a business of your own."

NO GUARANTEE.
"There is no guarantee of anything. If you are the type who would like a quitter the organization has no place for you. If you are a real hustler and eager to go ahead in the business world, then we would like to have you as a member."

Q—Did you make any inquiry to see if the organization was being conducted along business lines? A—No.

A letter called "Instruction to a Prospective Member" was then introduced, having been supplied by Inspector Mitchell.

A letter written by Johnson to Wolcott, treasurer in New York of the Decimo Club, introducing Inspector Mitchell and asking the club was under investigation by the attorney-general in Massachusetts, and asking Wolcott to cooperate with Mitchell, was given by the witness. It was read by Hammond. The letter was written May 19, 1932.

DIDN'T GO TO NEW YORK.
Mitchell said "I didn't go to New York."

Q—Did you ever go to New York?

G. A. R. MOSTLY CHEERS CIVIL WAR NURSES

Three gray-haired women whose ministrations eased the hurts of soldiers back three scores and more years ago, were cheered today at South Hall as the final session of the G. A. R. encampment ended.

The Civil War nurses were Mrs. Fannie T. Haas, 83, of Cambridge; Mrs. Mary E. Smith, 87, of Lowell; and Mrs. Helen E. Smith, 89, of Allston.

Recorded to the platform, the aged nurses were given an ovation by the feeble veterans a few minutes before the closing exercises.

These included presentation of a bouquet to the veterans from the Ladies of the G. A. R. presentation of $100 to the department by the Women's Relief Corps, presentation of $300 by the Daughters of the Union, and the Civil War and several donations of gold pieces to retiring Comdr. Henry.

The G. A. R. Church will receive one of the 25 all American flags to be presented to schools and churches by the Women's Relief Corps of the G. A. R. tonight at the "campfire" in Hotel Statler ballroom.

The flag presentations will mark the close of the State encampment, which opened here last night. Retiring president, Miss Emily Corey, of Southbridge, Mass., and Mrs. Mary E. Smith, 87, of Lowell, were elected president.

to investigate the Decimo Club? A—No.

Q—What did you do with that letter of introduction to Mr. Webster? A—I wired Mr. Reading, who was in New York at the time, and told him to try to get copies of the by-laws constituting the Decimo Club.

Q—What instructions did Mr. Reading give to you in connection with investigating the club? A—He gave me no instructions. He told me to "look into" the Decimo Club. Those were his words.

The inspector then testified that those to whom he investigated were whether money had been obtained in the club. He said that Monte, one of the members with whom he had discussed the club, had approached a man named Welch, an officer in the attorney-general's office, regarding prospective membership.

Q—On what date did you complete your investigation of Decimo Club? A—To whom did you report? Did you make that report in writing? A—No. I told him (Reading) I couldn't find anything criminal in the Decimo Club.

The witness then testified he gave duplicate copies of Reading or all the papers he had relating to the club.

STATEMENT TO BE READ.
Parsons, for Reading, then asked that a transcript of an examination of two officials of the Decimo Club by Inspector Mitchell be read into the records. Chairman James said it might be copied in and Parsons objected.

Representative Davison—Four principles reason is to get a headline in the papers.

Parsons then said, "I don't think all the members of the committee would in an ever the record grasp the significance of it unless I read it." He said.

When the laughter subsided Chairman James asked Parsons might read the statement after the luncheon recess.

At the resumption of the hearing, Atty. Parsons read the stenographic report of the hearing on May 19 by Mitchell and Atty. Gen. C. J. Whitfield W. Johnson and C. J. Thomas.

Johnson is a Harvard graduate in the class of 1920 he developed. Questioning in the report concerning what members obtained from the club, which was described as a contact organization, with no race or creed barriers. Lectures and monthly letters were provided for the members as an educational feature.

'Sidewalks of N.Y.' Fail to Win B. U. Girls for 'Al' Smith

The melodious strains of "The Sidewalks of New York" failed to cause a stampede for Al Smith today as cell students of the College of Practical Arts, Boston University, voted on their choices for the presidency.

The girls, gathered in the assembly hall, where the girls were gathered, playing the popular refrain, the students cast 213 ballots for Hoover, 189 for Smith, 37 for Coolidge and 25 for Llewellyn.

Dr. Thomas Chalmers, head of the history department, presided at the balloting with a lecture on the political situation.

DRY LAW PUTS DRUNKENNESS UP 72 P. C.

Crime has increased 31 per cent, drunkenness 12 per cent and the sale of opium 23 per cent since prohibition went into effect. It was asserted today by the New England Hotel Men's Exposition in Mechanics building by Charles A. Burrows of the Federal Dispensary Tax Reduction League.

Burrows declared that 88 per cent of the nation's population in the modification of the 15th amendment, this percentage representing 455 electoral votes of the 531 total.

Never before have there been so many persons in jail and prison. The speaker pointed out—and this after seven years also in jail. He said "I believe the time has come when the American people are beginning to realize the tremendous burden the prohibition law is imposing on them, both in money and morals."

DOPE FARM PLEA NATION-WIDE, SAYS PORTER

Washington, April 11 (UNB)—A nationwide plea for the establishment of narcotic farms for federal prisoners will be presented to the House Judiciary Committee on April 15, Representative Porter (Dem.) of Pennsylvania, author of the measure, said today.

The plea are contained in nearly 100 letters which have been received by Porter. They come from federal judges, prison officials, civic leaders and former "dope" addicts.

"The sentiment shown for action by the federal government in curing the narcotic evil is remarkable," said Porter. "I have never expected such demands in my legislative service."

LINDY GIVES 93 GIRLS RIDE IN NEW PLANE

Santa Barbara, Cal., April 11 (U.P.)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who is alleged to be pilot of the plane, took 93 young women on riding in his new monoplane here and flew it.

Lindbergh's aerial trail blazer was in fine fettle and not at all shy on this occasion. His cheery smile, absent for the past few days, was much in evidence again. The ride was made from Carpinteria, where Lindbergh's new plane is being housed.

Last night Lindbergh said goodbye to Harry G. Guggenheim, president of the Daniel Guggenheim Foundation for the Promotion of Aeronautics, and his self-styled "monthly-month employee."

Guggenheim left for San Francisco. Lindbergh returned to the residence of Mrs. J. J. Kisti, where he has been staying since he came here.

IT TAKES ALL-BRAN TO RELIEVE CONSTIPATION

More and more people are eating Bran for "health's sake" these days. And it's a fine thing. But not everybody realizes what a difference there is in so-called "brans." Doctors say it takes 100% Bran to supply enough roughage to relieve constipation. Part-bran products, at best, can only be partly effective.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is 100% bran. It furnishes roughage in effective quantities—and in the most effective form: cooked and krumpled. It does a work part-bran products cannot hope to equal. Two tablespoons daily—chronic cases, with every meal—no guarantee to relieve constipation.

Serve ALL-BRAN often. With milk or cream—fruits or honey added. Be sure you get genuine Kellogg's though—in the red-and-green package. Use it in cooking. Sprinkle into soups. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Served every where. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Boys and girls under 10 years of age whose birthday falls in April, may, with very little effort on their part, become special birthday guests of The Boston Evening American at a Lower State Theater performance.

No puzzle to solve, no contest of skill, but simply writing a letter to the birthday Editor telling him why you are glad your birthday falls on the date it does.

There are two minor rules to observe. One is that the letters must be written by boys and girls under 10 years, and the other that they must be mailed to birthday Editor within the week preceding the anniversary birth date.

Hundreds of the young folk in Greater Boston and surrounding districts are now at work on their letters to the birthday Editor. Now let him receive a letter from YOU. If it is a good one you will receive a ticket for Lower State Theater and, in addition, an attractive birthday card.

SAYS COLLEGES 'WRECK' HIGH SCHOOL LIVES

New York, April 11 (AP)—American liberal arts colleges, "which seem not to be interested in the future of public education for the masses," should strive to discover the kind of student who can make the most of the college, rather than how they have been prepared.

Dr. George W. Prader, president of the Colorado State Teachers College, told a national conference on education at Columbia today.

Dr. Prader was sharp in his criticism of the present relations between college and secondary education. "Preparing for entrance to one of the average eastern colleges wrecks the high school careers of thousands of boys and girls," he said.

And, again, "these scholastic Latin, essay-writing, English classes, dry as dust ancient history," as taught in high schools prepare for nothing in the world but college, and it takes a confirmed optimist to see how they do that."

He suggested that liberal arts colleges should not prepare high school teachers and should drop specific requirements for entrance and also the type of specific examinations demanded by the college entrance board.

"The present domination of the college by the high school," he said, "would be a good thing for the high school if these colleges had a conception of education as something to do with modern life. But the average college of this country still clings to its medieval curriculum."

Stephenson Tells How Klan Plot Against Fess Failed

Stephenson Reveals How Plan to Trap Fess Was Stopped by Protests

came to the conclusion that it was not only an unjust, unwise thing, but that it was also absolutely un-American in that it sought to delegate to the federal government powers that were primarily intended to be vested in the federal government. In that respect I regarded it as one of the most dangerous signs toward an illustration of power and designed to accomplish nothing but evil.

"Thereafter, pursuant to that conclusion, based upon my investigation, I endeavored to enlist the active opposition of all members in the states over which I had control, against the Sterling-Fessner law, and succeeded in effecting some sentiment against it.

"A Klan magazine published a series of articles violently attacking the character of Senator Fess. I received a letter which I still have, over the seal of the Klan, telling me that some men had been sent into the state of Ohio with the object of having the name of Senator Fess written on their foreheads.

"I immediately called the leaders of the Klan in the state of Ohio and informed them of the attack against the then Senator-elect Fess. They called their organizations together and held meetings.

Klan Killed Member Who Opposed Plot, Stephenson Says

David C. Stephenson, former Grand Dragon of the Indiana Klan, in that part of his affidavit printed today, tells of how a Klansman was killed to employ a woman in a plot against Stephenson.

The slain Klansman was Tom Austin, and in the street shooting duel between Austin and the gunman, both paid with their lives, Stephenson says.

"The story proved to be true, I would place the entire research of my affidavit on the disposal of the unfortunate woman, and would make it extremely embarrassing to those who held her unjustly.

"Within a very short time, perhaps 10 days or two weeks, my Catholic friend sent me a very voluminous report, in which I traced the young lady about whose complaint was made, and, strange as it may seem, the name was absolutely correct.

INTERVIEWED GIRL

"It was true she had been placed in the convent in California. It was true she had been transferred to its convent in Ohio. It was true the mother of the girl had been the same name as the name given by the woman. It was true the girl wanted to be returned to her mother, and that the mother wanted to remove the girl from the convent.

"But it was also true that the mother had a court record and was proved to be wholly unworthy of the custody of her daughter, and it was also true that the woman who was the mother of the girl was not the woman that she seemed to be, but an entirely different woman.

"I then went to the convent with the young lady, was confined to look with me three responsible persons. We asked permission to interview the young lady at the convent and were readily given that permission.

"She then told her story, which was a tragic one indeed, but assured us she had no desire to leave the convent, and told us that the woman whose picture was delivered to her was not her mother, and that she had never seen that woman in her life.

"The story is, briefly, that it was about that by appealing to the man I have previously described as a flamethrower, hate-propagator, that he so exaggerated his nature he could excite some act of violence on the part of the Klan in this part of the country and, thereby, draw it down to the moral law of the Klan in the states of Texas, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas and Tennessee.

Ex-Grand Dragon Bares Attempts to Frame Him Before He Quit Klan

George, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas and Tennessee.

"In these states, as part of their 100 per cent Americanism, 15 or 20 persons, in their own opinion, at least, take one unfortunate, covering individual into the woods, and successfully beat and torture him, even to burning him alive. In many instances they even branded them, or cut off their ears and turned them loose as a laughing walking delegate of righteousness.

KILLED BY GUNMAN

"After investigating thoroughly all the ramifications of this woman's conduct and her claims to the daughter, and getting the daughter's own story, and getting the convent record, and having received a number of vigorous letters from a man at Monroe, I assembled the whole file, marked it closed, and gave away the entire paper record of that incident.

"No raid was ever made on the convent and the people having custody of the convent knew they would never be a raid that had the official sanction of my office.

Another instance where they endeavored to use a woman for the purpose of inducing a Klansman of men, when they tried to direct Austin to remove the woman, and use her in an attack upon me, Austin very pointedly and emphatically refused to do so.

"Therefore they arranged to assassinate Austin to draw in either Jersey or lower New York. I am not certain just now where they have sent the gunman to kill Tom Austin. Austin to remove the woman, and use her in an attack upon me, Austin very pointedly and emphatically refused to do so.

"I retired in one of the hotel rooms, the number of which I do not at this time recall. Shortly after I retired I was awakened by a noise that sounded like the whole building was being torn down. I got up and found two bell boys and two men dressed in policemen's uniforms in my room and an apparent explanation for their presence.

"One of them had a bottle of liquor. What occurred the next few minutes I never did know.

GIRL ASKS FOR AID

"I can give no further details of this affair except that I was arrested on the charge of discharging the police, taken to police headquarters and detained for several hours ostensibly for the purpose of placing charges against me, but none were ever made.

"I had been handled from the Ku Klux Klan as a woman, and the Klansman said there had been a woman in my room at the time. If there had been a woman present, she was dressed in men's clothes and took her turn with the men in the somewhat rough and tumble affair that followed my arrest.

"Then another instance where they attempted to use a woman for the purpose of besmirching the character of men is in my own case where on or about the 15th day of May, 1924, they sent a young lady to my office who gave her name as McVoy, I believe, or McVey, I don't recall the exact name.

"She told me a tragic story of the cause of her condition and asked me if I would not render her some aid in her predicament. I was very much impressed with her story and felt the kindest sympathy for her. I immediately called up a lady with whom I was acquainted and asked her to come to my office where I informed her of the condition of the young lady.

"She agreed to take care of the young lady and I agreed to defray the expense thereof. When the McVoy or whatever her name was, came to my office, she was arranged to take care of her and she seemed to regret it and said she expected to be taken to my home and there taken care of.

"I was somewhat surprised and rather bluntly informed her that I was not in the habit of using my home as a private place for fatherless children.

"She finally accepted the offer but in a short time disappeared. I learned that condition was false, and that her story was false. Since that time she has made an affidavit asserting that she had been employed to get into my home on the pretext of approaching motherhood and thereby file a civil law suit accusing me of being responsible for her condition.

Follow this amazing expose of the Klan by one of its own chiefs in Thursday's Boston Evening American. Details of murders, lynchings and of men burned alive will be fully revealed in this series. (Photos on Page 3)

When children cough, run Muterole on their throats and chests. It is the remedy for adults, too. Relieves sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuritis, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore feet and colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

To Mothers: Muterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Muterole.

Three-Minute Journeys

By TEMPLE MANNING

UNLIKE most African men, the males of the village of Maunding, in Central Africa, are very domestic. Indeed, they spend as much time at home taking care of the children and the house as do the women. And since this is such an uncommon sight in Africa, it is more than worthy of a note.

The Maundings wear practically no clothing at all. The men wear a pair of sandals, numerous pearl bracelets, a walking stick and lots of fat. The women wear even less. However, the daughters of the chieftains are dignified by little pearl-embroidered aprons.

This village is one of the nearest of all the savage villages. The huts are built along regular rows. On the roofs of the huts the oven is placed, covered with straw. At harvest time the men of the village have a ceremonial dance.

Looking like nothing more than little of wine rendered in straw, the tribe surgeons expose themselves to strange attire, made of fibre, and decorated with poison feathers and terrestrial snails. While this dance is in progress, the women may approach. It is sacred to the men of the tribe alone.

Maundung is a peaceful village.

The people live a happy, busy life.

Formerly, the village was unknown to the world. The men are farmers, fashioners and hunters. They are most conspicuous in their work.

A WIFE'S MEDITATIONS

THIS is the time of year when you have to disclose yourself to find out whether it's the love-light or the insolence in your eyes are something as easily confused discover whether it is the lovethat gives you that dizzy feeling.
